MERLE NORMAN STADIUM

Merle Norman Stadium is the new on-campus home to the USC women's sand volleyball program. Located on the east side of University Park Campus on Figueroa Street across from the Galen Center, it features three courts with sand from the U.S. Olympic Training Center. The palm tree-encircled stadium also has bleachers and a grass berm for spectator seating, a scoreboard and audio system, lighting, restrooms, showers, and multiple team storage areas.

Ground was broken to build the new venue in July of 2012 under the generous donations of Jack and Helen Nethercutt and John and Melinda Muller, and a large sum from an anonymous donor. The Mullers have a daughter (Erica) on the 2013 squad. A USC alumnus, Jack Nethercutt served as vice president of marketing and later President of Merle Norman Cosmetics in 1973. He left the company to pursue other ventures but returned to his presidency in March of 2002 and now serves as Chairman of the Board with his wife Helen as Vice Chairman.

The stadium is named for Nethercutt's great aunt and namesake of the cosmetics corporation, Merle Nethercutt Norman. Both Jack and Helen are active in local Los Angeles non-profit groups and charities and are Galen Founders, members of the Scholarship Club, and Conquest supporters of the USC Trojan Marching Band.

On Thursday, March 7, 2013, USC officially opened and dedicated Merle Norman Stadium in conjunction with the sand volleyball program's alumni match. The Nethercutts were on hand to cut the ribbon with first Trojan head coach Anna Collier and athletic director Pat Haden. USC All-America alumnae and Olympic beach volleyball silver medalists Jennifer Kessy and April Ross christened the sand in their return to campus for the special match.

The Women of Troy played their first dual match in the stadium on Sunday, March 10, 2013, and earned a 4-1 victory over Loyola Marymount. USC produced a 7-3 mark on its home sand at Merle Norman Stadium in 2013 and was undefeated in 2014 at 8-0. The Trojans are 15-3 all-time at Merle Norman Stadium.

USC VOLLEYBALL'S BEACH HISTORY

USC women's volleyball players have shined on the pro beach world circuit, both internationally and domestically.

Top Women of Troy beach stars have included:

- 2012 Olympic silver medalists April Ross and Jennifer Kessy (winners of 24 tournaments, including the 2009 FIVB World Championship)
- Tracy Lindquist Jones (13-year pro)
- Geena Urango, Jessica Gysin and Keao Burdine (young beach stars)
- Bibiana Candelas (Mexican star won first-ever Collegiate Nationals Beach Volleyball Championship in 2006)
- Paula Weishoff (an indoor Olympian and Volleyball Hall of Fame inductee)
- Patti Bright (an indoor Olympian and Volleyball Hall of Fame inductee)
- Miki McFadden (an indoor Olympian)

The USC men also have a strong beach tradition, including such pro tourney winners as Tim Hovland, Adam Johnson, Pat Powers, Steve Timmons, Steve Obradovich, and Ron Lang.

NCAA SAND VOLLEYBALL: EMERGING SPORT NO MORE

- On Jan. 17, 2015, NCAA Division II and Division III membership approved sand volleyball as a championship allowing it to advance from the emerging sports for women list and become a full-fledged NCAA championship in spring 2016. Sand volleyball, which was approved to become a championship by Division I membership in October 2014, will be the 90th NCAA championship. The championship itself will have an eight-team bracket, which will be played in a double-elimination format.
- USC is among more than 50 schools that field a women's sand volleyball program as the sport begins its fourth and final season as an emerging sport.
- NCAA sand volleyball competition is similar to that of collegiate tennis. Each team competition is called a dual and consists of five matches between pairs. The winning team needs to win at least three of the five matches. The separate matches will be best-of-three set competitions, with rally scoring to 21 points in the first two sets and to 15 in the third. Teams must win sets by at least two points. Some competitions will also feature a pairs' championship through bracket play.
- Players switch sides of the court every seven points in a 21-point set and every five points in a 15-point set.
- Coaches may communicate with players only during timeouts/between sets.
- Players must wear a two-piece uniform (i.e. shorts or briefs and a top), or a one-piece, but not the traditional bikini worn in probeach events.
- Scholarships are awarded on an equivalency basis, with the ceiling on the number of allowable scholarships set to grow in coming years. Players with indoor volleyball scholarships can participate in sand volleyball, but players receiving sand volleyball aid may not compete on the indoor team.

2015 SEASON OUTLOOK

The USC women's sand volleyball team has its sights set on the grand prize as the Women of Troy prepare to open the books on 2015. In each of the last two years, the Trojans have advanced to the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) national semifinal match. USC's experienced core and depth of lineup are only a piece of the ingredients the Trojans hope will propel them to greater heights. For this team, improvement and a solid foot forward are the focus as the campaign begins.

"The first thing we talk about is getting better every match," said fourth-year head coach Anna Collier. "We want to focus on getting better, match-by-match, and not just on the long-term goal of winning a championship. If we can do that, we feel that our long-term goals are certainly attainable. Whether we win or lose a match, we want to see the results of our work, and improvement is what we're looking for this spring."

Though it is young, USC returns plenty of experience to the sand including that of the defending AVCA pairs champion Sara Hughes. As a freshman, Hughes teamed with Kirby Burnham to claim the 2014 title, an accolade that Burnham herself had won the previous year. The duo cleared a path for itself and went 21-4 in dual matches with a remarkable 21-0 record in tournaments. At 42-4, Burnham and Hughes captured the breath of the collegiate sand volleyball world and took home the ultimate prize. Burnham repeated as an All-American as Hughes received her first such distinction.

"We are young, but we're mature," says Collier. "We were a really young team last season, but most of our team has had that full year in our system, and we had a great 2014. We may have been a little disappointed with how the season ended, but I think the experience was a great learning and maturing process for the players we now look to as veterans."

Beyond Hughes, the Trojans also return sophomore Kelly Claes who is likely to partner with Hughes at USC's top spot. The tandem spent the summer together and made splashes on the international level. Last year, Claes paired with junior Alexa Strange to produce a 33-7 record including a 22-3 mark in duals. The Trojans expect Strange to contribute mightily to the team's success this season.

While USC must replace Burnham, and departing seniors Sam Hirschmann, Natasa Siljkovic, and Brooke Fournier, leadership comes in many forms, and is something the Trojans won't be lacking this spring.

Head coach Anna Collier was named the 2014 AVCA National Sand Volleyball Coach of the Year.

Sara Hughes and Kirby Burnham won the 2014 AVCA Pairs title

"We expect that our leadership will come from Sara Hughes," said Collier. "Her growth in just one year on campus was astounding. Having won the national championship with Kirby Burnham, we feel a lot of the leadership that we leaned on from Kirby really left a lasting impression on what we now have with Sara. While it's easy for a coach to point to a title winner as a leader, Sara has shown incredible poise and maturity as a player and as a person, and leads through her demeanor, her words, and with her work ethic and play on the court."

Among other returning players with starting experience, the Trojans bring back sophomores Nicolette Martin and Allie Wheeler who teamed up to earn 24 wins (24-5) as freshmen. Seniors Eve Ettinger and Bria Russ were solid as USC's fourth pair and finished with a 26-8 record in 2014. It remains to be seen if the pair will remain intact as 2015 unfolds, but both Ettinger and Russ figure to be prominent pieces to the Trojans' bid for a third straight postseason appearance.

The Women of Troy will also benefit this season from added depth. Senior Alexa Stonish and sophomore Paige Hines were each contributors in 2014 and could be called upon to round out the Trojans' lineup from time to time. Senior Emily Young was a member of USC's inaugural team in 2011 but has spent the last two seasons exclusively on the indoor court. She now returns to the sand and brings experience and depth to the table.

Despite the formidable lineup that USC's returners could produce, the Trojans are excited to bring in seven newcomers. Collier expects some of the new faces to compete and contribute immediately. The Women of Troy benefit from the transfer of Sophie Bukovec who was last playing on the indoor court for Long Beach State, Jo Kremer who joins the Trojans from traditional football rival Notre Dame, and Meg Norton formerly of UCLA's indoor volleyball team.

Among freshmen, the Trojans welcome Jenna Belton who was a top sand recruit and originally signed when Claes first signed with USC. The Women of Troy also bring in Olivia Asprey, Lorna Brandt, and Marielle Bagnard to their 2015 freshman class.

"Bukovec is a world champion who won the U21 title," said Collier. "She is a legitimate player, and we are very fortunate to have her. Norton is a player that really brings out the best in her partner. She has a confident and calming aura about her game that makes playing with her very easy. We think Jenna Belton will make an impact this year. We also like Jo Kremer who came to us from Notre Dame. It's possible that Jenna and Jo could be a great duo in the years to come. All of the transfers and newcomers we've had join our team have really bolstered this lineup and make us a true contender."

Eve Ettinger, Sr.

USC opens the season at home as host to first-year program TCU on March 12. The Trojans will have seven home matches televised on the Pac-12 Networks in 2015. Among USC's opponents are perennial top 10 teams including Pepperdine, Florida State, Hawai'i, and Loyola Marymount. Beyond TCU, the Trojans will also get a taste of new programs in first-time meetings with California, New Mexico, Concordia, San Francisco, and Irvine Valley College.

The Women of Troy will take a long trip to the islands during spring break to face Hawai'i, Cal, and Nebraska, and will also take part in the Rainbow Wahine Spring Challenge. In mid-April, the Trojans will again play in the USAV Beach Collegiate Challenge in Hermosa Beach, Calif.

USC will close the regular season as hosts of the Pac-12 Invitational where Arizona, Arizona State, California, and UCLA will converge to crown a team and pairs champion in Santa Monica, Calif. (April 18-19). With the right amount of success, the Trojans hope to return to the AVCA Collegiate Sand Volleyball National Championship in Gulf Shores, Ala., May 1-3.

"We always feel that you have to play the best to be the best," said Collier. "You can't have Nos. 1 and 2 square off each week, but we are excited about our schedule and know that it presents the challenges and growing opportunities we need in order to become a championship contender in May. We will face a lot of teams that we've never seen before, and I think that will test our limits and prepare us to be flexible for whomever we face."

With a mix of new and old, the Trojans know that they can only control their side of the net. Thus, self-improvement is paramount as the season progresses.

"Because we're facing so many new teams, our focus will continue to be on ourselves," said Collier. "With so many new programs, and not a lot of film out there to watch on players, when you line up against a team you've never seen, you really need to have your mind trained on your side of the court. If we do that, down the road, we can get into a situation where we might not know a team, but we can be comfortable with our game and still hope to win."

With 2015 barely out of the gates, USC knows that there is a larger picture and a new horizon to reach in the near future. On Jan. 17, 2015, NCAA Division II and Division III membership approved sand volleyball as a championship allowing it to advance from the emerging sports for women list and become a full-fledged NCAA championship in spring 2016. Sand volleyball, which was approved to become a championship by Division I membership in October 2014, will be the 90th NCAA championship. The championship itself will have an eight-team bracket, which will be played in a double-elimination format.

"The most exciting thing about the progress we've made, quite obviously, is that 2016 marks the first year the NCAA will crown a sand volleyball champion," said Collier. "It is a testament to the hard work that everyone in sand volleyball has put in over the years. This creates so many more opportunities for women across the country, and we think that many teams out there that were on the fringe will now take the next step to add what is the fastest growing sport in the country."

Always looking forward, but focused on the immediate task ahead, the Women of Troy hope to do some growing of their own this season. The Trojans were tabbed second in the AVCA's preseason coaches poll and were ranked No. 3 in the first ever media poll conducted by DiG Magazine. Now, it's up to USC to put the best foot forward.

Bria Russ, Sr.

ANNA COLLIER | HEAD COACH

Anna Biller Collier, who coached women's beach volleyball teams in a pair of Olympics, is in her fourth season as USC's first-ever head coach of the women's sand volleyball team.

Collier, a USC graduate, guided the Women of Troy to a 23-3 record in 2014 and a second consecutive third-place finish in the team portion of the AVCA Collegiate Sand Volleyball National Championship. The Trojans' top pair of Kirby Burnham and Sara Hughes won the AVCA pairs national title to bring the crown back to Troy for the second straight year. Burnham teamed with Stevi Robinson to win the 2013 pairs championships and were the program's first-ever All-Americans.

She coached USC to a 16-8 mark in 2013 and a third-place exit at the AVCA Championships. The Trojans had a 7-4 record in 2012, the sport's inaugural season as an NCAA-sponsored "emerging" sport, and sent two USC teams to the pairs championship of the first AVCA pairs tourney (Sara Shaw-Geena Urango and Burnham-Kelly Irvin both advanced to the quarterfinals).

In addition to her two collegiate pairs champions, she has led two U.S. teams to fifth-place finishes at the Olympics: Holly McPeak and Nancy Reno in the 1996 Atlanta Games and Annette Davis and Jenny Johnson in the 2000 Sydney Games.

Collier has coached beach volleyball since 1990, including working with such standouts as Misty May-Treanor, Kerri Walsh, Nicole Branagh, Rachel Wacholder and Angie Akers.

As head coach for the U.S. Senior A2 Beach National Team, she led American teams to first- and fifth-place finishes at the 2012 World University Championships in Brazil. She coached U26 and U23 A2 U.S. squads at the 2010 Team FISU World University Championships in Turkey. She coached the U26 U.S. squads at the 2011 Team FISU World University Championships in China. She as coach of Team USA at the 2013 Summer World University Games in Russia.

On top of her duties, she is a USAV High Performance coach and a founder member of the USAV Beach Coaching Accreditation Program Cadre.

She is currently a faculty member (teaching a variety of kinesiology classes) at Santa Monica (Calif.) Junior College, where she has spent the past 34 years. She began as the women's cross country and track and field coach, winning three California State championships. She previously was the chair of the kinesiology and athletics department.

Collier played professionally on the beach for seven seasons between 1978 and 1989, posting 10 Top-10 finishes among her 20 tournament appearances (including a third at the 1979 San Clemente Open and a pair of ninth-place finishes at the legendary Manhattan Beach Open in 1987 and 1988).

She attended USC, where as Anna Biller she was on the track and field, volleyball, and swimming teams. She was a two-time All-American in track as a member of the Women of Troy 800-meter (1975) and 400-meter (1977) relay teams. She earned her degree in physical education from USC in 1977.

ANDREW FULLER | ASSISTANT COACH

Andrew Fuller is in his third season as an assistant coach with the USC women's sand volleyball team.

Fuller helped the Trojans to a 23-3 mark in 2014 and a third-place finish at the AVCA Collegiate Sand Volleyball Championships. He also helped coach USC's top duo of Kirby Burnham and Sara Hughes to the pairs national title. In his first year at USC in 2013, the Women of Troy also finished third at the AVCA Championships, and All-Americans Burnham and Stevi Robinson captured the AVCA pairs national crown.

In the summer of 2013, he was a coach with the USA Beach Volleyball National Team, aiding Lauren Fendrick (his wife) and Brittany Hochevar on the FIVB Tour (they placed fifth at the FIVB World Championships) and AVP Tour (they ended up ranked as the AVP's No. 1 team).

Before coming to USC, Fuller helped Long Beach State finish as runners-up at the AVCA Collegiate Sand Volleyball National Championship in 2012, the inaugural year for women's sand volleyball as an NCAA emerging sport. He helped coach All-Americans Tara Roenicke and Caitlin Ledoux.

He also coached with the USA Volleyball beach program in 2012. He is certified through the USAV Beach Coaching Accreditation Program.

From 2009 to 2011, he was a coach with the boys and girls indoor teams at West Torrance (Calif.)

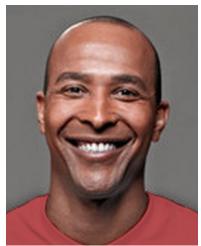

High.

The 30-year-old Fuller, who is 6-10, has played pro beach volleyball since 2007, with nine Top-10 finishes (30 times in the Top 25) in the 41 tournaments he has played. He and partner Mark Van Zwieten finished fifth at the 2011 Pan American Games.

He played on the men's club volleyball indoor team at Virginia Tech, garnering All-America honors. He earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Virginia Tech in 2006 and a master's degree in photography from the Academy of Art in San Francisco in 2011.

A native of Mountain View (Calif.) in the Bay Area, he and Fendrick (an attorney in addition to being a pro beach player) reside in Hermosa Beach (Calif.).

DAIN BLANTON | VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH

Dain Blanton is in his first season as the volunteer assistant coach for the Women of Troy. A two-time Olympian who won a gold medal in beach volleyball at the 2000 Sydney Games, Blanton officially joined the USC staff on January 30, 2015.

Blanton was the first two-time U.S. male beach volleyball Olympian. After he and partner Eric Fonoimoana captured gold in 2000, he joined with current USC men's volleyball assistant coach Jeff Nygaard and competed in the 2004 Olympics in Athens.

Blanton is among just a handful of volleyball players to win a championship in college, the Olympics and professionally. He was an All-American at Pepperdine and helped the Waves win the 1992 NCAA championship as a sophomore. As a pro, Blanton won 11 beach tournaments, including nine AVP crowns (four with Nygaard) two FIVB titles, and collected more than $725,000 in winnings. In 2003, he and Nygaard were named the AVP Team of the Year and Blanton was the AVP's Best Offensive Player. He became the first male African-American to win a major beach volleyball event when he claimed the 1997 AVP Hermosa Grand Slam. He and Kent Steffes won a bronze medal at the 1997 Beach Volleyball World Championships.

Blanton was the 1990 Orange County Boys Volleyball Player of the Year at Laguna Beach (Calif.) High, where he was also an All-State basketball player.

He currently is a television sports broadcaster, covering sports such as NBA basketball and Major League Baseball, college basketball and football and, of course, beach volleyball for networks including ESPN, NBC, ABC, FOX Sports Net, Universal Sports Network, and Pac-12 Networks. Blanton spends time mentoring students and as a motivational speaker with his non-profit GettingToGold. He also founded a Charity in 1997 called "Dain's Day at the Beach," which provides urban youth with the opportunity to participate in beach volleyball.

Blanton holds a teaching credential in physical education and graduated with a bachelor of science in public relations from Pepperdine in 1994. He was born on Nov. 28, 1971, and currently resides in Santa Monica, Calif.

USC VOLLEYBALL AND ATHLETIC HISTORY

USC has one of the nation's most successful athletic traditions. The Trojans field 21 teams (12 women's and nine men's) and those teams have captured 122 national championships (25 women's and 97 men's), more than all but two schools. USC's women have brought home 71 individual NCAA titles, while the men have won more individual NCAA crowns (311) than any other school.

USC has produced more Olympians, medalists, and gold medalists than any school. Since 1904, 422 Trojan athletes have competed in the Games, and taken home 135 gold medals (with at least one gold in every summer Olympics since 1912), 88 silver, and 65 bronze.

Four Trojans have won the prestigious Sullivan Award (as the nation's top amateur athlete). The Women of Troy have had two Honda Broderick Cup recipients (as the top collegiate female athlete of the year) and 15 Honda Award winners (as the top female in their sport), including volleyballers Debbie Green, April Ross, and Alex Jupiter.

Trojans also excel in the classroom. USC student-athletes have won 52 NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarships (including six by women's volleyball players). There have been 33 Academic All-American first teamers (four from women's volleyball) and four Rhodes Scholars.

Volleyball is one of the most successful sports in the USC athletic program.

USC has won six national crowns in women's indoor volleyball. The Women of Troy have made 32 NCAA tournament appearances, advancing to the NCAA Final Four 10 times.

USC's first four national championships in women's volleyball came under head coach Chuck Erbe, who dominated the sport during his 12-year USC coaching tenure which began in 1976. He coached the 1976, 1977, and 1980 AIAW champions and the 1981 NCAA titlists. His 1976 team registered the first perfect season (38-0) in women's volleyball history.

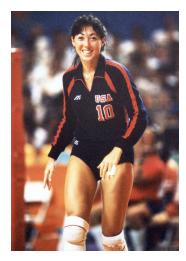

Lisa Love succeeded Erbe in 1989 and guided USC into the NCAA tournament in nine of her 10 seasons before retiring after the 1998 season. Jerritt Elliott served as interim head coach in 1999 and 2000, guiding the 2000 club to the NCAA Final Four. Mick Haley, head coach of the 2000 U.S. women's Olympic team and winner of two national crowns in the 1980s while at Texas, took over at USC in 2001. His 2002 and 2003 teams won the NCAA championship, with the 2003 club going 35-0. USC got to the NCAA Final Four in 2004, 2007, 2010 and 2011.

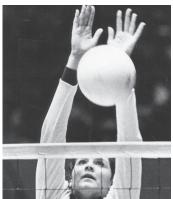

Trojan women volleyball players have been named first-team All-Americans 43 times. They have earned spots on Olympic rosters 23 times (including Green, Sue Woodstra, Paula Weishoff, Carolyn Becker, Kim Ruddins, and Nicole Davis).

The USC men's indoor volleyball team has enjoyed similar success, having made 14 NCAA Final Four appearances. The men have won four NCAA titles (1977, 1980, 1988, and 1990) and have finished second on 8 other occasions. USC's men have advanced to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past five seasons.

25 Trojan men have played on the U.S. National Team and USC men's volleyball players have been named first-team All-Americans 31 times. In the 1984 Olympics, USC alums Steve Timmons, Dusty Dvorak, and Pat Powers helped lead the U.S. to its first gold medal in the sport, while Timmons repeated with the 1988 squad.

Tim Hovland, Celso Kalache, Adam Johnson, Bob Yoder, Bryan Ivie, Donald Suxho, Brook Billings, Murphy Troy, and Tony Ciarelli also are key figures in the USC men's volleyball heritage.
